

David Peller

David Peller leads AWS Travel and Hospitality, the global industry practice for Amazon Web Services (AWS), with a charter to support customers as they accelerate cloud adoption. Companies across the industry - including restaurants and hotels chains; airlines, airports and cruise lines; entertainment venues and casinos, catering and foodservice suppliers, and specialized IT providers - rely increasingly on AWS to enable them transform their business, reduce costs, retire technical debt and drive innovation.

The AWS Travel and Hospitality team supports customers such as Airbnb, ANA, Choice Hotels, Compass, Dunkin' Brands, Expedia, McDonald's, Oyo, Qantas, Singapore Airlines and Sysco, together with members of the AWS Partner Network (APN).

Before joining AWS, David held various leadership roles in Singapore, Australia, the Netherlands, the United States and the United Kingdom, in travel and hospitality technology businesses. He has been both an entrepreneur and founder, as well as being part of the launch team of a restaurant business in the UK. He is a qualified Solicitor in the UK, holds a Bachelor in Legal Studies from King's College, University of London, and a Postgraduate Diploma in Legal Studies from the London College of Law.
