

Jason Barnard

Jason has over 2 decades of experience in digital marketing, he started promoting his first website in the year Google was incorporated and built it up to become one of the top 10,000 most visited sites in the world (60 million visits in 2007).

Today he is a fulltime 100% digital nomad, host and speaker at conferences around the world, whilst interviewing industry experts for his podcast ("With Jason Barnard... The smartest people in marketing talk to Jason about topics they know inside out. The conversations are always intelligent, always interesting... and always fun!").
